ANDREW CARNEGIE, WHO DISLCC.TED HIS KNEE BY FALL IN PARK

Because of the advanced age of andrew Carnegie—he has just passed atting the knee it was placed in a seventy-second birthday—considerable aforehension is felt over the ajury he sustained by a fall in Central Park, New York. Mr. Carnegie aforehension attending him believe of Governor Hughes that evening than and will recover soon, there is the the injury itself.

A FEAT IN PHULUGRAPHY.

Daring Descent to Got a View of an Osprey's Nest commenced my work, and I dended on my rope to terrace after terrace, forcing my way through thick rows of prickly pear, a most painful eration. And now we found that ere was nobody below to signal us re the nest lay. The inevitable recult was that after descending more than 100 feet I had to signal to be uled up again, always through the rickly pear. Again did I descend, and again did I fail to find the nest. On the third occasion I reached a recess in the great cliff, whence, after ding my rope and securing it to bush for obvious reasons, I made a cast along a ledge to the south and reached a point which I identified as eing not far from the nest as seen m below. So I retraced my steps and, regaining my rope, was hauled up for a third time. During this opon was nesting. The old and their manufacture by young girls eration I passed a ledge where a pere female swept close around with shrill cries and eventually alighted on the sandy shelf of rock within a few feet of me and, with outspread wings and every feather standing on end, lowered her head and screamed furiously. I have no doubt I was close to her young, but I had more serious work in hand, and so I left her alone.

I now made my fourth and last descent and found myself immediately over the nest, but before I could go down to it the party handling the rope had to work their way down toward me, since the rope was too short. Flnally I reached the nest, an enormous of big sticks measuring more than five feet across and doubtless the result of many years' work. In it were two ergs much incubated. By standing on a ledge close to the nest and essing the camera between my body and the face of the cliff I was able to take some long time exposures with fairly good results. It was near sunset, and the cliff was in deep shadow, which did not facilitate my task. Between the shaly nature of the cliff, the suppery terraces covered with loose soil and stones and the detestable prickly pears I never had a more uneasant or arduous task on a cliff bere. But I have lived to endure worse experiences, although not so painfully tracted as were these.

My very curt entry in my diary summarizes the whole job thus: "Bad shale cliffs, vertical and dangerous. Height ver sea, 160 feet. Top of cliff, 310 The worst bit of rope work I

With regard to the prickly pears, it vas many months before the last of ous spines I had collected in arious parts of my body consented to ne out, and then only after first fesring.-London Saturday Review.
